Veteran Realtor Tina Cadden Jenkins Inducted Into Champion Hall of Fame

Severna Park, MD: Tina Cadden Jenkins, a veteran realtor with four decades in the business, was inducted into the Champion Hall of Fame for achieving $50 million in settled Champion sales.

“I love this business,” Jenkins said. “The look on a buyer’s face when they walk into their dream home, the faith that clients put in me, the seller’s gratitude as I help them through the marketing maze—they mean so much. I always do my best to protect the interests of my clients.”

Jenkins joined Champion Realty in 2007 based on its “family atmosphere, commitment to excellence, superior training and the solid experience of the management.” Being appointed to the Champion Hall of Fame puts her among the “best of the best,” she said. “It’s humbling to be recognized by my company and peers for my achievements.”

Outside of work, Jenkins is a longtime supporter of Lake Shore Youth Baseball in Pasadena and enjoys watching her grandsons play team sports. Her passions include family, boating, scuba diving and traveling.

“Tina’s dedication to whatever is in the best interest of those she represents is one of the many things that stand out about her,” said George Savani, manager of the Champion Realty Severna Park office. “I get many testimonials from people about her great service.”

“Tina represents the best this industry has to offer our clients in pursuit of the American Dream of homeownership,” said Jon Coile, Champion’s president and CEO. “She has a great depth of knowledge of the market that she freely shares with her clients. I’m proud to say Tina is a Champion.”
